

Ari Azhir
Founder, Chief Executive Officer, & Board Member
Neuvivo

Ari Azhir, PhD is the CEO and Founder of Neuvivo, Inc., a new company developing novel therapeutics for ALS and other central nervous system diseases.

Dr. Azhir has successfully commercialized more than 20 healthcare products ranging from small molecule treatments for CNS and dermatology, to disruptive, widely used, medical device technologies. She has over 25 years industry experience as a founder and senior executive in multiple biotech companies including: Roche, Becton Dickinson, Intermune and Accuson. In addition to management roles, Dr. Azhir has served as Director of the Board at public, private and pre-IPO concerns.

Dr. Azhir is named as the key inventor and patent holder on 12 patents and has an extensive background building companies with strong IP portfolios.

Dr. Azhir received a BSc in Biochemistry and Mathematics from King's College, London. She did her graduate work in Biophysics at King's College and completed her post-doctoral training at Liege University, Belgium.